

Prospects Finalist

Prospects Finalist is the key to getting your brand on campus when students need it most during their career planning.

We print up to 40,000 copies of each issue, three times a year, so your message can be seen by the cream of final-year students.

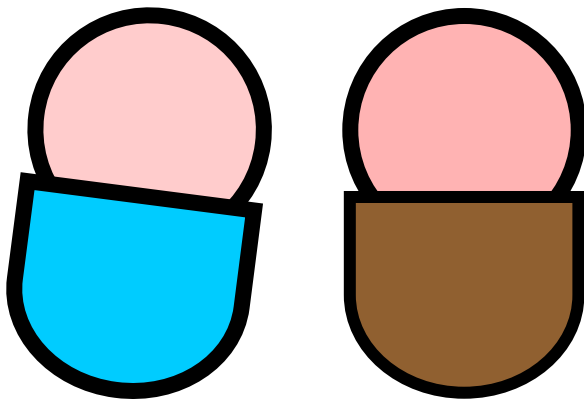

And our extensive distribution network through university careers services and graduate fairs means that your advert will get seen across the UK.

To provide even more coverage, all adverts are featured on Prospects.ac.uk – it's the busiest and most widely used graduate careers website.

This is coupled with featuring in Prospects Jobs & Courses for one issue so you get delivered directly to the inbox of thousands of students and graduates.

We're certain these online channels will support your on campus message – you could say it's the perfect combination...

We also include lots of Real Prospects findings in each issue of Finalist to give readers a better picture of the world of work. This lifts the lid on what recent graduates actually think and highlights tonnes of their experiences too.

Content is now split by Sector so you can target your message and benefit from the tailored Real Prospects editorial.

We think Finalist is your route to getting your brand on campus – can you afford not to?
