

Prospects Directory

We want to make recruiting graduates as simple as can be. If you want your brand to be seen, make sure you're in the Real Prospects Directory.

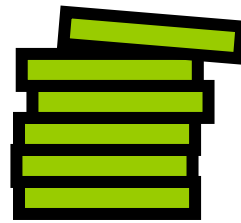

Directory is published every September and has profiles of the UK's leading recruiters. We print 100,000 copies and these get snapped up as soon as they land in careers services and at graduate fairs across the UK.

We also weave lots of Real Prospects findings into Directory to give readers a better picture of the world of work. This lifts the lid on what recent graduates actually think and highlights tonnes of their experiences too.

Content and profiles are now split by Sector so you can target your message and benefit from the tailored Real Prospects editorial.

Combined with fresh editorial and careers advice, this all makes Directory a must-have read for any graduate job-seeker.

All profiles included in Directory are posted on Prospects.ac.uk for 12 months. It's the most used (and official) graduate careers website, so we're certain your brand will get noticed.

Our newly improved employer profiles are the business too. They let you present information about your company, display job vacancies and highlight forthcoming events. You can even post videos or include case studies.
